A traditional/contemporary presentation by Evans “the RainbowMan” Craig starts out with a ‘dawning song’ on his traditional cedar flute. Then he plays ‘inspired’ (in-spirit) songs with multiple flutes. He has participatory songs where the audience participates with hand-drums & gourde rattles. He finishes the presentation with a closing song and blessing to Mother Earth & “all our relations”.

Evans is a Traditional Spiritual Healer, a Navajo Silversmith, a Hand-Drum Carrier and Traditional Cedar Flute player. He conducts Native Ceremony at various sites throughout the Washington, DC Metro area. When requested, he also plays, at gatherings & festivals throughout Native Country.
